Town rallies behind Big Issue seller after abuse

FORMER Axminster mayor Councillor Jeremy Walden has organised a rota of people to prevent verbal abuse of a female Big Issue seller in the town.

Cllr Walden took to social media after hearing reports of alleged verbal abuse last Thursday, saying such behaviour is totally unacceptable.

Writing on Axminster Noticeboard, he appealed for fellow residents to come forward, saying: "Do you have an hour to spare on Thursday, February 16th?"

"I am trying to set up a rota from 9am-4pm to provide moral support for the lady who sells the Big Issue outside Boots.

"It has been reported to me that she was verbally abused and insulted by someone who is old enough to know better, and who does not live in Axminster.

"This person told the lady to go somewhere else, that she was not welcome here and she had no right to be on the street.

"When she tried to reply the person placed their finger on her lips and said 'I talk, you listen, you do not talk'.

"This is not the Axminster I know, and such behaviour is totally unacceptable."

Cllr Walden's post generated much comment and reaction.

Speaking to Pulman's Weekly News on Sunday, he said: "The response has been very good, and I have almost got total cover with one person each hour.

"Thursday was chosen because it is market day, and the person involved, whilst not here on some other days, is always here on Thursday, and should they [someone] choose to challenge the vendor we will have support in place."

Police have confirmed that no complaint has been made about the incident, and Cllr Walden has resisted calls on social media to name the alleged offender.

In reply to those calls, he said: "The person was challenged by someone else, and they showed no regret, in fact the total opposite, and told the challenger to get back to work.

"I will not name the individual responsible, but we do need to ensure this does not happen again.

"I hope, that by the people of Axminster showing support for someone less fortunate than themselves who is trying to do something about her situation, we can send a message out that this is something we will not tolerate here."

"One of the core British values is that the one thing we are intolerant of is intolerance.

"I regret that over the past few months this has become less noticeable.

"Our compassion for those who are vulnerable seems to be evaporating. We need to restore that."

● In October last year a Big Issue seller was attacked in nearby Lyme Regis.

A man was arrested on suspicion of a racially-aggravated public order offence.

Four men sentenced to a total of more than 20 years

CHARGES INCLUDED KIDNAP AND AGGRAVATED BURGLARY

FOUR men have been sentenced to a total of more than 20 years in prison for a string of offences committed in Seaton last June.

Jamie Channing was sentenced on Friday, February 10th at Exeter Crown Court to 13 years for kidnap, GBH, possession of a BB gun with intent to cause fear of violence, aggravated burglary and ABH. He was cleared of a second count of kidnap and one count of theft.

Howard Dwyer was sentenced to five and a half years for aggravated burglary and Troy Coaker was sentenced to 18 months for ABH. Both Dwyer and Coaker were found not guilty of kidnap.

Sean Currie, 51, was sentenced six months for theft the day before. He was cleared of two counts of kidnap, ABH and aggravated burglary.

Senior investigating officer Detective Inspector Dean Bassett said: "The jury has returned a large number of guilty verdicts for a string of incidents in Seaton during June 2016. The jury was unanimous in finding Channing guilty of wounding and the associated possession of firearms offence.

"The group [Channing, Dwyer and Coaker] were also convicted of an aggravated burglary which occurred later that same day [Friday, June 24th 2016] and a number of other assault and theft-related offences.

"The case was extremely complex and protracted. I would like to thank the hard work of officers DC Perry and DC Burnell, whose work from the time of the incident being reported through to the conviction has been exemplary."

Police failure in recording crime

DEVON and Cornwall Police has been slammed by Her Majesty's Inspector of Constabularies (HMIC), who rated the force's crime recording "inadequate" as it failed to record reports of rape, serious sexual assault, serious assault and human trafficking.

A report published on February 9th said the force only recorded 82 per cent of crimes, leaving more than 17,400 crimes unrecorded.

HM Inspector of Constabulary Wendy Williams did not hold back, and said: "These are not simply administrative tasks that Devon and Cornwall Police is getting wrong."

"I was most concerned to find that the force had failed to record reports of rape, serious sexual assault (against both adults and children) and offences of serious assault and human trafficking."

"Nationally, there has been sufficient focus on the importance of crime recording over recent years to have expected better recording accuracy from the force."

"Other forces have recognised the importance of accurate crime recording, so Devon and Cornwall Police has no excuse to still be poor at recording crime, and certainly not for the most serious of offences."

"In 2014, HMIC made recommendations to the force on how it should improve its crime recording practices."

"We were disappointed to find that the force hadn't made progress against many of these recommendations."

"We estimate that the force fails to record over 17,400 reported crimes each year."

"Victims of crime in Devon and Cornwall aren't receiving a good enough service when they initially report crime."

"This is essential to ensure that victims of crime receive the right level of support they need at this difficult time."

Deputy Chief Constable James Vaughan said: "There is no doubt learning from the HMIC report around crime data integrity and I accept we and other forces have got to ensure we have better processes in place to accurately record all crime."

"This is more about recording a crime, helping a victim, but then not properly updating systems around supplementary crimes related to the same investigation."

"Recording crime in the right way is important as is ensuring that we have integrity in our data systems and how they are used."

"However, what is more important to me is ensuring we give victims of crime and those coming into contact with their local police a first class service."

"We don't believe that in the vast majority of circumstances we have not supported a victim."

"We record in excess of 80,000 crimes every year in Devon and Cornwall. The HMIC has said today that more than 80 per cent of those are recorded appropriately and properly."

"While it is of concern that some crimes are being recorded differently and this needs to be addressed, my focus remains firmly on protecting and safeguarding our communities."

"As a force we will further examine the HMIC's recommendations, look at the areas we can improve and how we can use this learning to improve the service we give to victims and the public."

Devon and Cornwall Police and Crime Commissioner Alison Hernandez said that too many errors are being made:

She commented: "This is a complicated area but too many errors are being made."

"The Chief Constable assures me that progress has already been made and that it will continue as a priority."

"I will also monitor the accuracy of crime data recording as an additional strategic measure within the plan and I will be closely scrutinising the implementation of the Chief Constable's action plan to assure myself that performance has improved."

"Supporting victims and witnesses, and helping them to get justice, is a priority in my police and crime plan."

"I want to reassure all victims of crime, especially those who are raped or sexually assaulted, that the police will take them seriously and they will be dealt with professionally."

"If an individual is any doubt whether to report, in the first instance, they can contact the victim care unit on 0300 3030 554 where they will be supported through the reporting process."

Chard tennis players search for missing Lotto winner

MEMBERS of Chard Tennis Club have taken to their National Lottery-funded tennis courts to help with the search for South Somerset's missing £100,000 Lotto Millionaire Raffle winner.

With just days to go until the missing Lotto ticket is due to expire (February 23rd), the team from the tennis club are calling on South Somerset's Lotto players to check their tickets from the unique Team GB-inspired Lotto Medal Draw on August 27th 2016 for the winning Millionaire Raffle code PINK 2195 7600.

The one-off Lotto draw was held to thank National Lottery players for the support they have given Team GB through playing the lottery.

Every week Lotto Millionaire Raffle guarantees to create two millionaires, but 27 millionaires were created in the one-off draw to celebrate 27 Gold medals won in Rio.

In addition, 23 prizes of £100,000 to equal the Silver medal haul, of which the South Somerset prize was one, and 17 additional prizes of £50,000 to match those Bronze medals won by Team GB were also up for grabs.

The National Lottery has invested over £5 billion in grassroots sports to date, with Chard Tennis Club just one of many sports clubs in South Somerset to benefit from National Lottery funding. The club has received £63,000 towards a new clubhouse.

Keen tennis player and club chairman, Jacky Boothman, who joined the missing millionaire search said: "Chard Tennis Club was able to undergo a major revamp thanks to National Lottery funding from Sport England in 2014 and 2015."

"This funding has been invaluable in maintaining the popularity of tennis in South Somerset, helping keep people, young and old, active across the region."

"We are delighted to support the hunt and hope we find that lucky ticket-holder. As a club we already feel like lottery winners due to the National Lottery funding we have enjoyed, now let's find that other lottery winner in South Somerset!"

If no one comes forward with the winning ticket before the prize claim deadline, then the prize money, plus all the interest it has generated, will go to help National Lottery-funded projects across the UK.

With all National Lottery draws, players have 180 days from the day of the draw to claim their prize if they have the winning ticket.

Anyone who has any queries or who believes they have the winning ticket for any of the National Lottery draws within the 180-day deadline should call the National Lottery Line on 0844 338 7551 or email help@national-lottery.co.uk

Work on town centre pavement under way

Anders Larsson
Chief reporter | anders@viewnews.co.uk

ESSENTIAL pavement work is under way in Axminster town centre.

Contractors will take out the slabs on the stretch of pavement running from River Cottage Canteen to the new NCP car park.

Work will be carried out in the evenings and overnight, and is expected to go on until March 2nd.

The Devon county councillor in charge of pavements, Stuart Hughes, said: "The block paving has failed over the years causing trip hazards and giving a very poor appearance to the town centre.

"We are replacing the block paving with tarmac and a small amount of block paving detail. "When block paving ages, trip hazards can be created and this surface will reduce the likelihood of trip hazards forming in the future

"We consulted with the town council and we agreed a flexible material (tarmac) was the best solution."

A road closure will be in place between 7pm and 7am

A Devon County Council spokesperson said: "This closure is for through traffic and parking only, and pedestrians will have access.

"Diversions are a recommended route only, using roads of equal category to that on which the road works are taking place.

"They're not compulsory, and people with good local knowledge of alternative routes are able to use those if they wish to.

"The road is open during the day but under traffic light control."

Heritage centre launch survey

AXMINSTER Heritage Centre is hoping for a good response to a new online survey.

As part of their ongoing work with the community, Axminster Heritage trustees and volunteers have launched a short online survey.

A spokesperson for Axminster Heritage said: "The survey aims to get the views of local people and build them into development plans.

"The results will also be used for the next Heritage Lottery Fund grant application. Your feedback is requested on the importance of heritage to residents, experience to date of the heritage centre, what activities and facilities you'd like to see and any improvements you'd like to suggest."

To encourage as many people as possible to participate, one person completing the survey will win £25.

For further details on the survey, and to take part, visit www.axminsterheritage.org

Rare Little Bunting spotted at Trinity Hill

■ A RARELY seen Little Bunting bird has been spotted at Trinity Hill Local Nature Reserve.

The local heathland is managed by East Devon District Council, and a spokesperson said: "Little Buntings are rarely seen in the UK; they breed in the far North East of Europe and across Northern Asia, typically spending winter in Southern Asia, China and India.

"Easterly winds, which dominated autumn 2016, resulted in only a few being detected in the UK.

The Little Bunting was seen at Trinity Hill by bird-watcher Steve Waite, who managed to take some photographs.

Mr Waite said: "Each autumn small numbers of Little Bunting are seen in the UK, most often in the Northern Isles and along the East coast. It is thought there are about eight in the UK at the moment, with three together in Cornwall and one at Trinity Hill.

"I was really pleased to see the bird and other bird-watchers have now come to take a look at this potentially once-in-a-lifetime spot."

First fundraiser for Christmas lights group is announced

LIGHT Up Axminster has announced its first Christmas lights fundraising event – a pizza and quiz night at Le Pisani on Monday, March 20th.

Chairman Cindy Furse said: "This is a fantastic event to start our fundraising efforts with, and I'm sure it'll be a great evening for everyone, with some brilliant prizes on offer."

Doors open at 6.30pm, with the quiz set to start at 7pm. Tickets for the event cost £10 a head, and can be purchased in advance or on the door.

The maximum number of people in each team is six, and teams can be organised in advance or on the night.

Le Pisani will be serving freshly cooked handmade pizzas, with a number of different options on the menu. Ticket purchase details will follow in due course.

The group has also launched its Facebook page.

Light Up Axminster's Publicity and Social Media Manager Aaron Walker Furse said: "We had a fantastic response from Axminster's online community, with over 150 people liking our new page in less than a week.

"Those who wish to stay updated can visit our page at www.facebook.com/LightUpAxminster

"We will also be launching a website and Instagram and Twitter accounts over the next few weeks."

● Preparations are also under way for Light Up Axminster's launch event, which will be held on Thursday, March 9th from 7pm-10pm in The Guildhall. The event is described as "an exciting opportunity to discover more about the group, what events are coming up and how everybody can get involved."

Chimney fire

FIRE crews from Axminster and Colyton attended a chimney fire at a property in St Andrew's Drive, Axminster.

They were called just after 2pm on Saturday, February 4th, and a spokesperson for the fire and rescue service said: "The crews extinguished the fire using chimney gear and a thermal imaging camera to check for hot-spots and fire spread."

Public urged to take part in consultation on council ward boundaries

THE independent Local Government Boundary Commission for England is asking people across East Devon to comment on its draft proposals for new council ward boundaries.

An eight-week public consultation on the recommendations will end on April 3rd.

The consultation is open to anyone who wants to have their say on new council wards, ward boundaries and ward names across East Devon.

The Commission's draft recommendations propose that the East Devon District Council should have 60 councillors in the future (one more than the current arrangements), across 30 wards (two fewer than there are now).

The recommendations outline how those councillors should represent 12 three-councillor wards, six two-councillor wards and 12 one-councillor wards across the district. Ward names could also change.

The full recommendations and detailed interactive maps are available on the Commission's website at consultation.lgbce.org.uk and www.lgbce.org.uk

Professor Colin Mellors, Chair of the Commission, said: "We are publishing proposals for a new pattern of wards across East Devon and we are keen to hear what local people think of the recommendations."

"Over the next eight weeks, we are asking local people to tell us if they agree with the proposals or if not, how they can be improved.

"Our review aims to deliver electoral equality for local voters. This means that each councillor represents a similar number of people so that everyone's vote in council elections is worth roughly the same regardless of where you live."

"We also want to ensure that our proposals reflect the interests and identities of local communities across East Devon and that the pattern of wards can help the council deliver effective local government to local people.

"We will consider all the submissions we receive – whoever they are from – and whether your evidence applies to the whole district or just part of it."

The Commission wants to hear as much evidence as possible to develop final recommendations for East Devon.

If anyone would like to make a submission to the Commission, please email: reviews@lgbce.org.uk or write to the Review Officer (East Devon), by April 3rd, at: The Review Officer (East Devon), Local Government Boundary Commission for England, 14th floor, Millbank Tower, London SW1P 4QP.

You can also have your say directly through the Commission's consultation portal: <https://consultation.lgbce.org.uk/node/8778>

'Death Cafés' come to East Devon

THREE 'Death Cafés' have been launched in East Devon, covering Honiton, Axminster and Seaton, with more being planned.

A survey by the charity Dying Matters reveals that more than 70 per cent of people are uncomfortable talking about death and that less than a third of us have spoken to family members about end of life wishes.

Emma Kennedy and Gill Amos, the organisers of East Devon Death Cafés, believe that death should not be a taboo subject and as such people are denied the opportunity to explore their feelings and ideas about death.

At a Death Café, people meet in a safe, welcoming space over tea, coffee and cake whilst talking about mortality and all that goes with it.

The aim is to overcome the taboo of talking about death, to share experience and listen to others.

There is no agenda and it is a respectful, supportive and confidential space for discussion rather than a grief support or counselling session.

Emma's interest in Death Cafés come from a personal journey through grief and coming to terms with the idea of death. She is a teacher of ethics and philosophy.

Gill's experience of supporting friends and family at the end of life and her desire to help others think about what it means to have a good death has inspired her to co-host these events. She works with Action East Devon as a project coordinator.

Death Cafés are free to attend but places need to be booked as they can be very popular.

The cafés take place at the Beehive Centre in Honiton on Tuesday, March 7th from 7pm to 9pm, at the Arts Café, Church Street, in Axminster on Tuesday, April 25th from 7pm to 9pm and the Eden Room at Eyre Court Hotel in Seaton on Tuesday, May 23rd.

More information at www.deathcafe.com or contact Gill on 07855 117702, gill.amos@actioneastdevon.org.uk or Emma on 07974 330549, emma.kennedy07@yahoo.co.uk

VIEW FROM THE MAYOR'S CHAIR

A monthly column by the Mayor of Axminster, Councillor Paul Hayward

WHEN I was first asked to produce a monthly piece for Pulman's Weekly News, I never once thought that I would have to report that a serving member of the town council, and moreover a former mayor, had very sadly passed away.

As readers will already be aware, Cllr Mrs Joy Hull died recently after a short spell in hospital and it is only right that the people of Axminster pay tribute to someone who gave nearly 50 years of his life to public service, but who also supported a vast array of local groups and associations and who fought tooth-and-nail for the services that we all take for granted.

Helen and I extend our sincere condolences to Douglas at this difficult time. A memorial service celebrating her life will be held on the 22nd of this month at the United Reformed Church. All are welcome.

In memory of the late Cllr Hull's campaigning, it is an opportune time to announce that several long-awaited projects are due to start shortly within Axminster: the first being the second phase of the pavement replacement works in the town centre; the other being the long overdue safety improvements to the A35 junction at Hunter's Lodge.

As with all such 'on-street' works, some disruption will be necessary and unavoidable and your journey times might be affected but, given that these two areas are regularly brought up at council meetings by parishioners, I feel that all residents should welcome the progress that has been made in getting to this point, and look forward to seeing the benefits once complete.

Readers may be aware that, as from February 1st this year, there is now a potential fine of £100 payable by any dog owner who, when challenged by a Council Enforcement Operative, cannot provide evidence of having dog waste bags on their person.

Axminster Town Council has long been an advocate of responsible dog ownership, and has made significant accommodations to ensure that dog owners and non-dog owners alike can share the use of council owned land and amenities.

This new legislation, coupled with the proposed EDDC Public Space Protection Orders covering the walking of dogs on leads near public highways and footpaths, will hopefully reduce the unpleasantness of dog mess left on our pavements and communal recreation areas.

Please bag it, and bin it – thank you.

I was delighted to recently attend the showing of Dad's Army at the inaugural launch of Axminster's Movies On Monday at our very own Heritage Centre. This 'pop-up' cinema is run entirely by volunteers and aims to provide a wide variety of films for residents to enjoy over the coming months whilst raising much-needed funds for the Heritage Centre and town museum.

Please look out for posters around town advertising future presentations. Refreshments and ice cream are available.

As mentioned in a previous edition, I would like to remind all readers that February 17th is National Random Act of Kindness Day: a day on which the smallest gestures of goodwill can cumulatively make a huge impact on the well-being of the town.

Even something as innocuous as a simple hello or a smile to a stranger in the street, a compliment paid, an arm to lean on – these will brighten someone's day and that effect multiplies as more people share the experience.

Finally, can I ask all residents to make every effort to visit our local library in South Street? Sarah and her team look forward to welcoming everyone into the library to take advantage of all that there is on offer.

Books, of course, internet access, Scrabble club, Children's activity days, Seed Library, DVDs... the list goes on and on.

In this age of cuts and austerity, it is vital that we support our library and the staff working there as much as we can. Even if you just pop in to say hello; that small act alone will help support our library (but not just on the 17th!).

Recognition for Jack

A TEENAGER from Axminster reached the regional finals of the Tpas 2017 awards, which celebrates unsung heroes for their contribution to driving up standards in social housing.

Seventeen-year-old Millway Rise resident Jack Bennett was nominated in the Young Tenant of the Year category because of his "outstanding service to sport in the community".

He is heavily involved with Millway Rise Football Club and East Devon District Council's (EDDC) SWITCH club, which offers activities including sport.

Jack was nominated for the award by Victoria Robinson, East Devon Community Development worker and lead worker of the Millway SWITCH club.

She was determined that Jack should receive acknowledgement for his work in the Axe Valley community.

Commenting on the trip to London and the regional final, she said: "Although Jack didn't win the award, it was great to see his commitment to sport in his community recognised, not just by the community, but on a wider scale."

"Jack has been coming to my club since we started and it has been lovely to see him develop his leadership skills and his sense of community spirit."

"I would like to thank the sports team at Axe Valley Community College and the coach, Dan Murnane from Millway Rise FC, for their help in putting the nomination together."

Jack said: "I was overwhelmed with making the shortlist and would like to say thanks for the opportunities given to me by Millway Rise FC and Axe Valley Community College and would like to thank to Victoria for the effort and time she put in to nominate me."

"Overall it was an amazing experience and it was great to listen to other people's stories and how they got involved in their community."

Councillor Ian Hall, ward member for Axminster Rural, said: "I have had the pleasure of knowing Jack for around ten years."

Anders Larsson

Chief reporter | anders@viewnews.co.uk

"He is kind, thoughtful, sincere, hard-working and always helpful to all."

"I am so pleased that Jack is being recognised for his efforts in the community – this nomination is well deserved, particularly as he always puts others before himself."

"Jack is a shining example to all that know him and I know from talking to his peers that the youth football coaching he does for his beloved Millway Rise FC is very much valued."

"I look at Jack as a natural leader and although on this occasion Jack wasn't a winner, as far as I am concerned, Jack, you are already a young community champion."

Councillor Jill Elson, EDDC's portfolio holder for sustainable homes and communities, added: "It's a tremendous achievement to be shortlisted for the Tpas Awards and Jack made it through to the regional final over hundreds of other entries from all around the South of England."

"We are all so proud of him and as far as we are concerned, even though Jack didn't win the award, he is already a community superstar and a winner to those that know him."

Alternative diet awarded entrepreneurs' package

SOCIAL entrepreneur Helen James says a £4,000 business mentoring package has made a world of difference.

It was last year that Mrs James, from Axminster, was selected for the package as part of the Lloyds Bank's social entrepreneur programme.

The programme is co-funded by The Big Lottery Fund and run in partnership with the School for Social Entrepreneurs (SSE).

Mrs James runs social enterprise Nutrir*, which helps its members to end restrictive diet patterns and become happier around food.

This is achieved by removing 'yo-yo' diet-

Anders Larsson

Chief reporter | anders@viewnews.co.uk

ing and replacing it with an alternative eating plan.

She says there is an obesity and/or poor self image epidemic out there, perpetuated by restrictive dieting and unobtainable media norms.

Mrs James created Nutrir* after three decades of being an unhappy dieter, and too many years of not being at ease with her own body.

She applied for the one-year business mentoring package last spring.

The application was successful and she met her mentor for the first time in December.

Although it is early days, Mrs James says she is so lucky to have been chosen. She said: "It is what it is cracked up to be, and more. It has made a huge difference to me and my project."

"As a first-time entrepreneur with just an unproven idea, the SSE has helped and supported me to create and develop Nutrir* into the social enterprise that it is today and equip me with new skills to take it strongly into the future. For example, I have received training and input with marketing and financial planning."

In short, a social enterprise reinvests profits back into the company or the local community.

She said: "I've also discovered that not many people really know what a social enterprise is; lots of people have praised Nutrir*'s aims, but have asked 'why is it run as non-profit?'"

"I think people get stuck at extremes of full charity or full profit when what will work best is right in the middle of this – a social enterprise making a profit but choosing to re-invest this for the benefit of the business and its scope to help more."

MP delighted work on A35 is due to start

MP Neil Parish is delighted that Highways England will start road safety improvement work at the Hunters Lodge junction on the A35 at Axminster.

Highways England will start work in April and Mr Parish said: "The safety improvements at the Hunters Lodge Junction cannot come soon enough. Far too many people have lost their lives at this blackspot."

"I hope the work now goes ahead on time and on budget. Drivers on the A35 should not have to put up with this dangerous junction for any longer than is necessary."

Advertiser's Announcement

Come together today for a better tomorrow

FREE SOUL are a group of like-minded individuals who are united by their passion to encourage the community to pull together for a brighter future.

With the local area currently exceeding in housing development, there are plenty of community issues taking a back seat. With this in mind, we have been inspired to help the Tom Chubb Fund with vital fundraising required to build and maintain a quality concrete skate park in Axminster.

We know that people travel all over the UK and beyond to locate their perfect skate park and so why not support this very project which currently sits right on our doorstep, needing our help!

How are we going to do it?

What better way than to plan the ultimate festival for all ages- the perfect way to chill out, come together, enjoy the party and most importantly raise funds for a worthy cause.

Our 'Free Soul Slowburner' is just that- good for the soul! Set in the Secret Cranberries Hideaway, the Slowburner festival will be a safe haven and retreat for all ages, with music, madness and activities planned, all set in the tranquil backdrop of rolling Devonshire hills and Jurassic coastal views.

There are lots of plans already in place and in true festival style, the event will last for 12 hours- 12

'til midnight with plenty to keep you entertained. From stalls and whacky activities, to some of the best music our local area has to offer, we have the whole family covered and we cannot wait to unveil more plans closer to the time.

Music enthusiasts, happy hippies, family fundraisers, festival folk, community lovers and local people join together- the Slowburner is one not to be missed!

About the Tom Chubb Fund

On the 30th October, 2012, the Axminster community was shaken by the sudden and tragic death of 18 year old Tom Chubb in a car accident.

Following the tragic news, Axminster's skate park has become a hub for those affected, with fundraising becoming an essential tool to use in order to turn the sadness and loss of Tom into something positive for the future.

The fundraising began when donations were made to the skate park during Tom's funeral. From then on, friends and relatives of Tom began a new journey, campaigning for better skate facilities for BMX and skateboard riders (something Tom loved) and... a dedicated team of fundraisers were born.

The skate park site has been donated by Cloakham lawns, and is not owned by the local council, so it is up to fundraisers, the steering group and those who skate there to ensure the park is maintained and looked after.

Insurance, small rent to Cloakham and the building of the skate park all comes from fundraising and so there is a constant need for money to be raised at every opportunity to keep this hub alive.

Well-known skate park design and build company Maverick Industries will be heading up the latest design and contracting of the new park which organisers are sure will drive all ages and abilities from across East Devon to enjoy.

Now officially granted charity status, the next step is to put in for planning for a bigger and better park. Supported by local councillors and the community, the group hope the next stage in the project will be well supported and achievable!

Coastguard deputy steps down

BEER'S Deputy Coastguard Station Officer, Paul Driver, is retiring from his post after 37 years of service.

Mr Driver, pictured right, who is Beer born and bred and still lives in the village, decided the time was right to go after celebrating his 65th birthday last summer.

"There is no age restriction to staying with the Coastguard but I looked at the team and thought it was probably a good time to go and let the younger guys carry it on," said Paul.

"I have passed on my knowledge to them and hopefully they will do the same – you can't go on forever!"

The Driver family has a long association with the historical seaside village but Paul was the first for a long time to join the Beer Coastguard Service.

"I have lived in Beer all my life and generations before me and it was just something I decided I wanted to do," added Paul.

It should be noted that the work is voluntary and had to be fitted in around his job as a blacksmith based in Seaton and at times could be quite disruptive, especially with calls during the night.

And then there was the MSC Napoli incident 10 years ago.

"I was the first on duty with a colleague that day and didn't get back to work until a week later!" said Paul.

"We had some fun and games there but I was never verbally abused – but then again I am a big guy!"

Since records were started – and that was long after Paul started his job – he has attended over 850 shouts in his time.

"I can say I have achieved my goals because I know there are one or two people out there who are only alive today because of what the team and I did, and that is a nice feeling to have," he explained.

In his long career Paul received two Chief Coastguard Commendations in 1997 and 2004 and a Department of Transport Rescue Shield award for a cliff rescue in 1997.

"Paul will be sorely missed but he can rest assured he has done more than his bit for the community," said Station Officer Terry Hoare.

"He will remember his last shout simply because it came at 4:18 in the morning.

"That's something he will not miss!"

"Now that social media is a constant in our lives there is even more emphasis on the way that we look and, particularly for the younger generation, it creates so much anxiety.

"So many teenagers believe that their success depends solely on image and this issue is often the cause of bullying.

"So the message of this book is simply 'so what?' Does it matter that one eye is slightly larger than the other, that we have a big chin or long nose? What does it matter in the bigger picture, as what we look like does little to define who we are inside."

Mrs Parry started up Confidance, a theatre arts programme, in 2007. After nine successful years she moved on to further her own personal training and expand into other areas of self-development.

RNLI: let there be light!

THE Royal National Lifeboat Institution shop in Beer could be opening far more often from now on – after it was finally linked to the National Grid.

It was a little known fact that there was no electricity supply to the shop on the cliff top by Jubilee Gardens, but that omission has now been corrected and in an official opening 'Kayak Roy' (Roy Beal) from Seaton flicked the switch to bring the charitable facility into the 21st century.

"We now have light, heating and a till," said a proud Wendy Cummins, who is secretary of the Seaton, Beer & District branch of the RNLI. We can now also take credit and debit card payments in the shop."

The big switch-on, which was celebrated with free prosecco supplied by Tesco Seaton, was attended by Amanda Woods of RNLI (Sales) Ltd, Mandy Graham of Beer Parish Council and numerous volunteers and friends who assist the organisation in their valuable work in East Devon.

Kevin Fahey

Beer reporter | kevinwfahey@btinternet.com

"The shop will now be open at various times and days during the winter then as the year progresses for seven days a week," added Wendy.

Earlier in the day the RNLI raised £409.50 from a table top sale in the Mariners' Hall to mark their 50th anniversary, while an extra £100.25 was raised from a music night in the Long Bar at the Dolphin Hotel.

"We thank everyone who attended our events on the day and donated raffle prizes, plus the Dolphin Hotel and Tesco Seaton for their continuing support," said Wendy.

● The local branch will be holding their AGM on Wednesday, March 8th (7.30pm) in the function room of the Mariners Hall.

Volunteers put in 300 hours of work of Seaton Wetlands in one month

DESPITE 2017 having only just begun, East Devon District Council's Countryside volunteers have already put in a lot of effort in Seaton.

More than 300 hours of work was accumulated during January, allowing the team to achieve great things.

Seaton Wetlands volunteers have opened the Discovery Hut each weekend to welcome visitors and have dedicated 82 hours of service to the team, as well as talking to more than 400 visitors.

The Tuesday Task Force at Seaton Wetlands has been very busy this winter, working over 125 hours planting trees to create a new hedgerow and creating bird box, bat box and dormouse box kits ready for the Wildlife Gardening taking place at Seaton Wetlands today (Tuesday, February 14th).

Countryside team leader Tim Dafforn said: "The Countryside service is extremely grateful to the work of our volunteers who provide such a great range of skills and expertise to the service.

"Lots of exciting work has already taken place, and the rest of the year is set to be just as busy with species surveys and events being planned."

New body runs Devon Youth Service

DEVON's Youth Service is run by a new and independent organisation.

The change came into effect on February 1st and is the result of Devon County Council's (DCC) decision to put the Youth Service out to tender last year.

DYS Space Ltd, a not-for-profit Public Sector Mutual established with the support of Devon County Council, has been appointed to run the county's youth service for the next three years.

The new provider aims to develop new ways of working, access new sources of funding and attract investment not available to a local authority.

DCC will retain responsibility for its statutory responsibilities towards young people including child protection and early help services.

DYS Space Ltd Chief Executive Kevin Henman, is confident that they can keep the service on a firm financial footing while continuing to develop services young people and local communities need and want.

He said: "Devon's youth services are highly valued and supported, and Space is committed to continuing this excellent track record by promoting the safety, welfare and development of young people and their communities.

"One of the keys to our success will be enhanced collaboration with partners and communities to ensure that young people receive the support and advice they need to realise their potential and to lead healthy and fulfilling lives.

"As an independent organisation operating as a social enterprise, we will be more dynamic and entrepreneurial in our approach and be able to maximise opportunities to draw in additional resources for Devon's young people.

"By providing open access youth provision, alternative education services, targeted youth work, focussed Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme work and a range of support for many other voluntary sector organisations across Devon, we aim to provide a continuum of services that are flexible to meet young people's needs as those needs change through their teenage years."

Councillor Barry Parsons, DCC Cabinet Member responsible for Youth Services, said: "We have an important responsibility to support young people, especially those who are more vulnerable, to protect them from harm, help them establish good relationships and engage positively in their communities as they grow into adults.

"Releasing the youth service from within the council gives it the opportunity to develop and expand with greater freedom and flexibility, and doing this by creating an independent social enterprise from the existing service provides consistency, continuity and sustainability for young people, which is really important.

"An immense amount of hard work has gone in to getting this far, and I am pleased that we have managed to protect the service from further budget reductions and keep our highly respected youth workers running the service for young people and their communities."

Axe Valley and Holyrood to form multi-academy trust

■ JOINING FORCES: Martin Brook with the chairmen of governors from each school, Heather Burnett (Axe Valley) and Ann Adams (Holyrood)

AXE Valley Community College in Axminster and Holyrood Academy in Chard have been given permission to form a Multi-Academy Trust (MAT).

The two schools have been in a management partnership since last year, and the application to form a MAT has been granted by the Regional Schools Commissioner.

The aim is to formally launch the Vector Learning Trust, consisting of Holyrood Academy and Axe Valley Community College, on April 1st.

Martin Brook, Executive Principal of Holyrood Academy and Axe Valley Community College, said: "Why choose Vector?

"Vector was chosen as the trust name because it means 'a quantity, with direction made up of more than one element' and the reason for this model of working is to combine the strengths of more than one school to achieve the best possible education for all our students.

"This is great news, initially for the partnership agreement with Axe Valley and in the longer term I believe this decision will provide exciting opportunities for our staff while enabling us to continue the scale of improvement for every student.

"There are a limited number of MATs across the South West, so this puts us in a strong position to establish ourselves as one of the outstanding education providers in the region.

"Although there are no immediate plans for other local schools to join the MAT, it is expected that as the Vector Learning Trust evolves, other schools in the region will join and more children will be in a position to benefit from the collaborative working that this model of educational leadership creates."

Axe Valley Community College headteacher Steve Green commented: "The announcement means that we can put in place the necessary steps to become an academy within weeks.

"Joining the Vector Learning Trust will provide further opportunities for the young people of the Axe Valley and I am delighted that the partnership between the two schools has led to this point.

"The opportunities for collaboration are very exciting and I look forward to working with my colleagues across the trust to further improve the outcomes for the students here."

Correction

IN some editions of last week's Pulman's View we reported that a man, Peter Hall, was in custody over an attempted robbery in Seaton, and that he resides on Hawkwell Travellers' Site in Hawkchurch.

This was the address given in court, but the site's owners have asked to point out that Mr Hall was asked to leave the site more than a year ago and no longer resides there.

Reminiscing at memory café

COLYTON, Colyford & District Memory Café welcomed a visit from the Forget-Me-Not Reminiscence Service at their last meeting.

The team brought along a crate of memorabilia – ranging from a lacrosse stick to conkers on strings – which transported members back to their school days.

Those attending also enjoyed completing a wordsearch and the café's usual raffle, sing-along and tea and cake.

The café session was preceded by the annual general meeting, at which the accounts were passed and officers appointed.

If you, or a friend or loved one, is experiencing short-term memory loss, or has recently been diagnosed with early dementia, you will receive a friendly welcome at the café. For more information, call Sue Whitell on 01297 599477.

Record collection for foodbank

COLYTON Grammar School students collected more than 2,000 food items for the Exeter Foodbank during a recent three-week appeal.

The 2,157 items of non-perishable food, weighing over 905kg, beat not only the students' target of 1,000 items, but smashed the school's previous record of 1,364 items.

Led by Year 11 student Jemima Proctor, tutor group 10C collected donations from across the school community.

Jemima organised the campaign as part of her 'Independent Learning Project', and was assisted by fellow Year 11 student, Eve Washbrook, and physics teacher Louise Fitzhenry.

Pete Scott, from the foodbank, said: "In one week Exeter Foodbank feeds 80 to 100 people using just under a tonne of food. Therefore this is amazingly valuable - we can't say a big enough thank you."

Headteacher Tim Harris thanked the students, saying: "It is testimony to your set of values – this campaign is very important."

Mrs Fitzhenry added: "Jemima has been one of the best organisers we've ever had, and the 10 Cedar students have been superb."

Ladies donate £1,000 to Hospiscare

■ AT the Raymond's Hill Ladies Club meeting on Wednesday, February 1st a donation of £1,000 was made to Hospiscare day centre Kings House in Honiton.

The funds were raised by monthly raffles, a cream tea held in the summer and a Christmas Fair.

Lauren Mercer from Hospiscare explained the work of the day centre and the future of Hospiscare in the area.

Raymond's Hill Ladies Club meets on the first Wednesday of each month at 2.15pm at Woodbury Hall, Axminster: new members are welcome.

Horticulture society talks

TERRY Underhill's talk to Axminster & District Horticultural Society on January 19th was very good, and there were some new faces in attendance.

The next talk is on the February 16th, starting at 7.30pm, to be given by Spence Kingdon and called 'Talks With Humour - A Boy On The Farm'.

The talks are held in the United Reformed Church Hall, Chard Street, Axminster.

Members are admitted for free whilst non-members are charged £1.

For further information, please contact Jayne on 01297 598292 or David on 01297 32196.

COLYFORD: At their February meeting members heard an account of the history of Exeter.

Tony Burgess, one of the Red Coat Guides, explained the city's Roman origins, the influence of the Vikings and the Normans plus more recent events such as the WWII bombings in May 1942.

Ladies were advised about activities relating to the Devon Federation Spring Council Meeting in Torquay and the local Spring Group Meeting, which will be hosted by Colyford WI. Both of these events are in April. Later in February there is a coffee morning at the Donkey Sanctuary.

At the next meeting on March 1st, the talk is Herbal Medicine in Your Garden. For more information contact Elizabeth Harding on 01297 624250.

Probus club news

■ AXMINSTER: Being a club for retired and semi-retired men, it is hardly surprising that most members would describe themselves as 'senior citizens'. The subject of Bonita Wade's talk to their February meeting was therefore very appropriate.

'Drink Wise, Age Well' is a Lottery-funded organisation and Bonita is the training officer at the Devon office in Exeter, providing free training to volunteers and carers who can then give advice and support on alcohol-related matters to the over 50s. Probus is happy to pass on its Devon contact number 0800 304 7034 to anybody who would like to speak to someone concerning their own or a loved one's drinking.

The Axminster Probus Club for retired and semi-retired business and professional men meets in a private room at the A35 Pit Stop, Gammons Hill, Kilmington, on the first Tuesday of each month. For further information ring 01460 220528.

■ SEATON Probus members and some of their wives were treated to a tour around the Seaton Tram Depot and workshops. The highly experienced guide, Inspector Gareth Richards, described its work and history.

This was followed by a return trip to Colyford on their newest tram: Car 15, formerly Car 17 and now painted in the blue and cream livery of the Isle of Man.

The last social event took place at The King's Arms, Seaton when members sat down to a convivial steak meal. Many thanks to chef Angie.

The speaker for this week's meeting was Tony Buldock who gave us a colourful slide-presentation of two RHS gardens, the 'Queen Mother's rose garden' at Rosemore and the 'trials' garden at Wisley.

The next meeting is on February 15th at 10am at the Methodist Hall, Scalwell Lane when the speaker will be Tony Burgess on 'The Jurassic Coast and its hinterland'.

For more information please contact Steve Lord on 01297 21872 or visit our website: www.seatonprobus.co.uk

Entertaining stories

THIS Wednesday the Windsor Fellowship in Seaton were entertained by Mrs Anna Sutherland with a talk entitled 'A Mouth Like a Welly', a selection of hilarious stories. A former actress who was trained by the famous Joyce Grenfell, hearing her was a performance in itself.

Next Wednesday (15th) Mr G. Knapman will give a talk entitled 'Tax, Care and Toy Boys'.

Safe, Secure & very, very strong...

THE MAINTENANCE FREE* GARDEN FENCE

6 Simple facts that make colourfence 'TICK' all the boxes...

- ✓ Guaranteed not to rot, warp, chip or peel for 25 years* (T&C's apply)
- ✓ No painting, treatment or repairs!
- ✓ Fit & forget – 'no worry', low maintenance fence
- ✓ Strong & secure – can withstand wind gusts of up to 130mph
- ✓ Ensure good neighbourly relations, both sides the same!
- ✓ Beautiful to look at year after year

* apart from an occasional wash down

The Fence that repairs itself.

If you scratch or cut Colourfence, the ingenious zinc element in the Zinalume steel reacts with moisture to form a protective barrier to prevent any corrosion with no action needed from you.

STRONG, SECURE & BUILT TO LAST!

AT LAST! The holy grail of fencing transforming gardens across Dorset & South Somerset!

It may do "exactly what it says on the tin" but let's face it, treating a timber fence can never be called fun! In fact, owning a timber fence isn't much fun either with costly, time consuming maintenance and repairs almost every year.

Finally, the alternative to timber fencing.... our fence goes up and stays up, resisting wind gusts of up to 130mph!

Colourfence fencing solutions are made from innovative Colorbond steel, virtually maintenance free with an occasional wash down with water to keep it looking as good as new – so you never need to pick up that paintbrush again!, Guaranteed not to rot, warp, chip or peel for 25 years.

Available in a variety of heights and colours with or without trellis, our skilled installation team will make short work of transforming your garden.

The best news is the pricing is just as attractive, starting costs are in line with comparable traditional systems but offer the ongoing peace of mind you're your investment will continue to save time and money year after year.

For those of us who want a low maintenance garden, Colourfence promises a lifetime of hassle-free enjoyment.

For a free no-obligation site visit, please call Andy & Shelley.

Foodbank thanks

■ WHEN Foodbank Seaton first heard about the 'reverse Advent calendar' we told our local churches and schools, and advertised it on our Facebook page.

The whole idea was instead of opening a window on an Advent calendar and taking a chocolate, we would put an item of food in a box for individuals and families experiencing food poverty.

At Seaton we were overwhelmed by the response we received.

In the run up to Christmas we had concerns as to how we would cover all the needs, for all the folk coming to us.

The boxes started arriving two weeks before Christmas from individuals, families, schools, uniformed organisations and churches.

How wonderful our local area is, how generous.

A simple 'thank you' doesn't seem enough, we wanted to tell folk through our local papers what a fantastic job they did.

Everyone who came to us in the run up to – and after – Christmas had not only the basic food-stuffs they needed, they also took away lots of Christmas treats.

Please will you pass on our very grateful thanks to all of your readers. The week before Christmas we had our busiest day ever, or so we thought, but in January that record was broken.

We thank and praise God for the good people of Seaton and surrounding areas.

With many thanks,

CAROL PLUNKETT,
Foodbank in Seaton

'New' name for Pippins?

■ Re: Pippins (Pulman's, Tuesday, January 31st)

I SUGGEST the building revert to its original name of Terrace Lodge.

The Knight family built and lived at this fine house for many years from about 1800.

It was subsequently sold and turned into a school for young children, the name then changing to Pippins.

MISSING CAT

We recently moved to 23 West Acres, Seaton and unfortunately our oldest cat, Sukey, a large ginger and white 14 year old male cat has gone missing.

We ask all local residents if they could check any outbuildings - garages, sheds, greenhouses etc and to keep a look out for him.

He went missing on Thursday evening (9th February) and has not been seen since. We are concerned as this was the start of a very cold spell in this area.

We have put posters up and delivered leaflets in the area and have been heartened by the positive response by local residents.

We would like to thank everyone for their support so far, and encourage everyone to keep an eye out for Sukey and to continue checking their sheds, garages, outhouses etc

Please telephone 01297-24841 or my mobile is 07879-440316 and my husband Steve's mobile is 07881-367070 if you locate Sukey.

Half term fun on a budget

www.netmums.com

Day trips and activities can cost a fortune – but you don't need to break the bank to have a lovely half term.

Make a Boredom Busters jar

At the start of half term gather everyone together and make a Boredom Buster jar. Brainstorm ideas of things to do during half term and pop them in your jar. You can take it in turns to pick out an activity and it's a great way to prevent any cries of 'Muuuum...we're boooored!'

Free family days out

You don't have to splash the cash at expensive theme parks and attractions to have a great family day out. Museums, art galleries, farm parks, country parks, play parks...they are all fab and FREE! Some museums and other places offer free workshops in the holidays too.

Head for the great outdoors

Head out into the great outdoors on a walk or adventure. It's completely free after all and you can discover nearby woods, hills or paths that you never found before. Take the bikes or scooters for a bit of extra pedal power. Or turn a walk into a treasure hunt with Geocaching.

Check for special offers

If you fancy a special day out at a zoo, farm park, theme park or other attractions check for any special offers before you go. Don't forget to take a look at the attraction's own website too, in case there are discounts on tickets (you can often get a discount when booking online.) And see if you can get offers if you use your loyalty card points.

Pack up a picnic

Whatever you choose to do on a day out it's always much cheaper to take your own picnic with you. Pack up a scrummy picnic lunch and you can save pounds on having to fork out in cafes and restaurants.

Get crafty with junk

Spend an afternoon or a day getting crafty. You don't need to spend a fortune – turn the recycling bin into works of art.

Make dens

Spend a day making dens and playing in them. Grab old sheets and pegs and get creative. Or transform a huge box into a castle or house. Once created, make signs and gather cushions and play things to furnish it into a cosy space. You could even have lunch inside the den!

Hit the charity shops

Put some pennies in the children's purses and head out on a shopping trip that doesn't break the bank. Scour charity shops, antique shops and fairs to find some lovely and unusual bargains. Perhaps your children will discover a pre-loved teddy that needs a new home or a board game to try out? When prices are cheap, you can shop without guilt and then spend the rest of the day playing with your goodies.

Head for the library

Take a trip to your local library. Spend a happy hour browsing books to borrow and bring home. There are often free art and craft or story telling sessions at libraries too. Often there are book sales so you can add to your book shelves too...fab, free family fun.

Bilbys Coffee Shop

Bilbys coffee shop is celebrating its 16th birthday this week. They arrived in Crewkerne a week before foot and mouth came to Somerset in 2001. Jane and Tris worked in London at famous hotels and restaurants like The Savoy, Scott's, The Berkeley Hotel and Leith's restaurant before deciding to move to Somerset to have a family. Tris was the research and development manager for the new Oscar Mayer ready meal factory in Chard. Bilbys coffee shop prides itself in having a great range of homemade cakes and meals all made by them. Some of the recipes are traditional like their sponges, some are local recipes like the now famous Somerset apple cake and some are old family recipes like Janes mums Ginger shortbread and Boiled fruit cake. They serve food Monday to Saturday from 9.00 to 5.00. One of the most popular meals is the All Day Breakfast and bacon deli rolls. Since 2001 Bilbys has improved its wheelchair access and now has a room that can be used for private parties. Many community organisations like the Chamber of Trade, Knit & Natter, The Book club, The GO-OUT club and the Baptist church use this room. "Hatch, Match and Dispatch" Bilbys also cater for Christenings, weddings and funeral and many other types of functions. Jane now makes many bespoke celebration cakes all made to order. But like Jane and Tris say "We couldn't do any of this without two things The best staff in Crewkerne and The best Customers".

The Choir Boy and the Brickie

ITALIANS, allegedly, are fanatical about three things: Opera, football and wine in that order. Devonians have altogether different priorities, with Folk ballads, rugby union and cider high on the agenda. But perhaps this is about to change; because the Opera Dudes are coming to your aria (sorry) this February. Before the month is out, amateur renditions of "Nessun Dorma" will be ringing out from shower cubicles across the county.

"We get a lot of blokes coming up to us at the end of the show," says Tim Lole, one half of the duo. "They say, 'Hate opera. Only came 'cause my wife dragged me. I absolutely loved it'."

Tim explains, "The show is an entertainment really, with everything from swing to show tunes to slapstick comedy, but it's that encounter with opera, having the Pearl Fishers and Nessun Dorma sung at you full blast, that people find totally irresistible".

Tim Lole and Neil Allen, two halves of the Opera Dudes, who are touring Devon through the arts charity Villages in Action, are an unlikely coupling. Tim was a choir boy turned organist and prize-winning conductor who worked at the Royal Opera House and Scottish Opera, where he conducted The Turn of the Screw, broadcast on the BBC. Neil on the other hand, was a bricklayer.

"Neil was a builder who sang in pubs and clubs until people told him he wasn't as good as thought he was. He got singing lessons and his teacher, Michelle Wegwart, realised he had the potential to be a very fine tenor. Aged 30, Neil sold his building business and set up a school, The Magdala Opera Trust, so that he could get an operatic training and fulfil his dream."

Since then, Neil has sung with the City of London Sinfonia and the Orchestra of Opera North as a principal soloist, to name but two. His oratorios have included The Messiah, Verdi's Requiem and Mozart's C minor. The two tenors paired up after meeting through Neil's teacher, Michelle, who – can you guess? – is now his wife.

At first Tim and Neil performed classical concerts and dinner evenings, but the more they chatted with audiences, and let their personalities come out, the more they realised there was scope for comedy in their show. The Opera Dudes were born.

"We're like Il Divo meets Morecambe and Wise. Our show is very interactive and unpretentious. We always get the audience singing, but don't let that put you off!"

The song list is a truly eclectic mix: a mash-up of Verdi, Lloyd Webber, Chopin and Elvis.

Although their natural habitat, as accomplished tenors, is the vaulting architecture of an opera house, Tim and Neil really relish the intimacy of a village hall.

"I think rural touring is amazing for both performers and audiences," Tim enthuses. "For us, it's a chance to test our mettle. When you stand in front of 90 people, who all know each other and you're the newbie, you've got to be able to do your job. There's no bells and whistles in a village hall. It sorts the men from the boys!"

And from the rural community's vantage point?

"It's a great chance to come together with friends and experience something truly transcendent. It's only right that talented young people from EVERY postcode get that early exposure to professional talent."

So who needs the Three Tenors when you've got the Two Dudes? Just don't expect Neil to quote you on a new conservatory. He's swapped the mortar for The Messiah and there's no looking back.

Opera Dudes perform at: Sheldon Village Hall at 7.30pm on 16th February (tickets on 01404 841 367)

On the hunt for ancient trees

THE LEGACY TO LANDSCAPE community heritage project starts its new season of events with a hunt for old trees in this historic landscape. It will be a theme running through this year, inviting people to help find those old, gnarled and large trunked ancient trees forgotten and hidden in the Legacy landscape.

'Ancient tree hunt in Woodend Park', takes place at Shute, Axminster, from 2pm – 5pm on Sunday, February 26th.

Learn how to record these ancient and other veteran trees and meet the more elderly tree residents of the former medieval deer park, right in the heart of the Legacy Landscape with Jill Butler from The Woodland Trust. Please bring flexible tape measure, and if you have them, a GPS, Smartphone or Tablet. No booking required. Free Legacy to Landscape event. Parking Haddon Road, Shute, EX13 7QR. Meet in front of Shute Barton entrance.

Alongside historical buildings, ancient trees are some of our oldest living monuments. However they too often go unrecognised and they don't get the official recognition that our buildings are afforded. Ancient trees aren't mapped across the landscape in the same way ancient woodland is, which makes them unintentionally vulnerable to neglect and lack of management.

We need to find where they are so we can ensure their care and protection and also encourage their offspring seedlings to provide future woodland in this special landscape. Woodend Deer Park is home to several old trees including the majestic 800 year old King Johns Oak. Other ancient oaks include Lord Arundel and Chaseland. The project would like to find out how they got their names.

For more information on how to get involved and full 2017 events programme, please email legacytolandscape@gmail.com; or 01404 310012

Critically acclaimed play about iconic cricketer comes to Lyme Regis

FOLLOWING a sell-out tour in November 2016, Dougie Blaxland's critically acclaimed one man show When The Eye Has Gone is coming to The Marine Theatre Lyme Regis as part of a UK National tour on 8th and 15th March 2017. Tickets are available from the box office on 01297 442138.

When The Eye Has Gone tells the all too brief life of Colin "Ollie" Milburn - the cricketing legend who was one of England's most unlikely sporting heroes. Full of anecdotes, a thumping soundtrack and a large gin and coke, the story swings backwards and forwards through Milburn's life as he raises a glass to the triumphs, including his first Test Century against the West Indies at Lords in 1966 and the disasters, like losing his left eye in a car accident in 1969.

The extraordinary story of Colin Milburn has all the hallmarks of a Greek tragedy. In 1966 he became a household name, scoring a blistering century against the mighty West Indies in only his second test. He then caused a major sensation playing for Western Australia in the Sheffield Shield smashing 243 against Queensland at Brisbane in an innings described by Don Bradman as "the greatest innings played by an Englishman on Australian soil". This was quickly followed by another glorious century for England against Pakistan in Lahore.

Just a few weeks later, on his triumphant return to England, he lost his left eye in a car crash in Northampton, an injury that effectively ended his career and life prospects. His subsequent decline into alcoholism ended with his death from a heart attack at the age of 48. Ian Botham was one of the pall bearers.

Originally commissioned by The Professional Cricketers' Association for Mind Matters, their mental health awareness programme, When The Eye Has Gone was written by the award-winning playwright Dougie Blaxland, nom de plume of James Graham-Brown, a former Derbyshire and Kent all-rounder and directed by Roughhouse Theatre.

The part of Colin Milburn is played by GSA graduate Dan Gaisford. Dan has worked extensively in TV, film and theatre and his recent credits include Clybourne Park (Mercury Theatre Colchester), Kidnapped (Brassworks Theatre) and Henry Walker and the Wheel of Death (Roughhouse Theatre).

The show comes to the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Wednesday, March 8th and Wednesday, March 15th at 8pm. Tickets are £13 and £12 (concessions), available online at www.marinetheatre.com or by calling 01297 442138.

ON THE SHOWBIZ BEAT

Local talents come good on the big stage

I GET to see lots of local theatre and I'm often blown away by the wealth of talent in the area.

We have a number of former professionals, who now grace the amateur stages around here, bringing a fantastic quality to our community shows, including the fabulous Amy Wheatley, who starred in Bridport Pantomime Players' Red Riding Hood just a couple of weeks ago and the fabulous Nicola Kathrens, who wowed audiences with her performance in Lyme's Tempest last summer.

There are also a few who I believe are good enough to cut it in the professional world including the indomitable Tracey Wakeling who will soon be appearing in Thoroughly Modern Millie at the Marine Theatre, Exmouth's Lance Vernon, who has got to be one of the best leading men in the area and Kelly Apps, whose portrayal of Eva Peron in Lyme Regis Musical Theatre's Evita has become the stuff of local legend.

Some do make the leap to the professional stage and it's always fantastic when my two worlds collide and I'm able to see friends in big shows in London and further afield.

Bridport's tap dancing sensation, Harry Poole is currently training at the Stella Mann College in London, former Woodroffe student, Celia Cruwys-Finnigan is touring the UK in the fantastic jukebox musical Buddy, and Perry Meadowcroft from Exmouth is set to make his West End debut in the Spring.

Alec Porter from North Bowood, was critically acclaimed last summer for his role in the musical Crime and Punishment - A Rock Musical, with music by Toyah Wilcox and after breaking both his ankles, is looking forward to getting back to the stage. Robbie Waugh from Axminster is working for Celebrity Cruises and travelling around the Caribbean performing popular musicals to lucky guests onboard ship.

And then there's Lyme Regis' Luke Street, who after performing in the highly acclaimed West End production of Gypsy with Imelda Staunton is now set to take the lead himself in the international tour of a smash hit musical.

I'm not allowed to reveal which one quite yet, so keep your eyes peeled for details.

I've been lucky enough to perform with many of these excellent young actors and I'm afraid they may have learned some unsavoury habits from me, as I'm notoriously badly behaved backstage.

I'd like to think I could always see their potential, but also the drive it takes to make it on the professional stage. The appetite for success is a big part of the business, as even the most well known actors will spend much of their careers out of work.

I've interviewed lots of stars and many of them talk frankly about the lack of work. I asked Maureen Lipman last year about what had enticed her back to pantomime at Christmas and she told me it was the guaranteed work and money that had ultimately made up her mind.

I also once asked Ruthie Henshall if she had any tips for youngsters starting out in the business and her reply was, "You've got to love it. You'll spend a lot of time out of work and you will spend a lot of time doubting yourself, because part of our job is rejection."

"You've got to eat, sleep, breathe it and love it, because otherwise you won't last long."

It's a tough business, but one of the greatest jobs in the world and amateur theatre can act as a good grounding for those who would like to take up the profession.

For us mere mortals we have to be happy with just the joy of performing and it is such a joy. There's nothing quite like putting on a ridiculous costume and pretending to be someone else for a couple of hours.

There are an abundance of groups to choose from in the area and if you would like to have a go, most of them have their own websites and social media accounts, so are easy to find.

I've just arrived in Australia for a few days, so I'm off to see Aladdin at the Capital Theatre in Sydney next week as well as a highly acclaimed production of the Testament of Mary by Sydney Theatre Company.

I'll probably have a little mooch around the Opera House while I'm here too!

Crewkerne Farmers Market continues at new home at Henhayes Centre

THE MONTHLY Crewkerne Farmers Market is this coming Saturday, February 18th by The Henhayes Centre (TA18 8DA near Waitrose and The Aqua Centre), from 9am to 1pm with the usual range of bread, cakes, ready meals, apples and seasonal veg, fish, meat, poultry and eggs and Ed the Potter!

Now is the time to be planting trees so this month (and March) the market has Steepholding Heritage Fruit Trees joining the line-up, based near Wellington. Hand-grafted heritage apple, pear, plum, cherry and quince trees chosen for their flavour, storage and disease resistance. The trees are available in several sizes, from tiny trees happy in pots all their life to semi and full size trees you could climb. Steepholding choose the best of the old varieties and graft them onto certified virus-free rootstock to keep their wonderful names and nature alive. The trees come with their roots wrapped up to keep them moist but are lightweight and pre-inoculated with beneficial mycorrhizal fungi. Somerset, Devon & Cornish varieties available and many from across England and Wales. See www.steepholding.wordpress.com for full lists of varieties and sizes available.

The Farmers Market has been in Falklands Square for some 15 years but the owners issued a non-negotiable and unaffordable rent demand just before Christmas. Hearing the news both The Henhayes Centre and the Rotary Club immediately stepped forward with potential new sites for the market and organisers are now in discussions for the best option. In the meantime, we are back at the lovely Henhayes Centre this month, with parking close by and a nice coffee bar.

Come along to the Farmers Market on Saturday for quality food and drink, produced and reared in the local area.

For Farmers Market dates across Somerset and details of all the producers visit the website at www.somersetfarmersmarkets.co.uk or pick up the new 2017 leaflet when you visit Crewkerne on Saturday.

Fliss Gorst Band set to swing in Seaton

■ Fliss Gorst

LONDON-BASED saxophonist Fliss Gorst - originally from Axminster - will be returning to the area to perform with her band at Seaton Gateway this February.

The Fliss Gorst Band (formerly Jivestar) perform authentic swing, 50s rock 'n' roll, jumping jive and new takes on old classics.

The band are led by saxophonist Fliss, and consist of a stellar line up of some of London's finest musicians including highly acclaimed vocalists Kai Hoffman, Shane Hampshair and Lauren Bush.

Experienced performers, the band have performed on the main stage at Ronnie Scott's Jazz Club, Pizza Express Jazz Club, and regularly at The Spice Of Life Soho. They've also held a residency at Poppies Fish and Chips Camden since 2013.

The Fliss Gorst Band play at Seaton Gateway on Saturday, February 25th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £13 in advance, or £16 on the door, available online at www.seatongateway.co.uk or by calling 01297 625699.

From 'The Choir' to the Pilot Boat!

■ Gareth Malone with the Longest Johns. Picture: BBC

IF YOU'VE been following The Choir on BBC with Gareth Malone, you will undoubtedly have noticed a bunch of bearded Bristolian blokes who rather stand out from the crowd.

Now the Longest Johns, fresh from their appearance on the popular TV show, are among the acts appearing next month at Lyme Folk Revisited, the annual fundraiser for the town's summer folk festival.

The one-off show will be held on Saturday, March 18th at the Pilot Boat in Lyme Regis, and features three acts from across the region.

The five-strong singing group, all in their twenties, bring a youthful vigour - and a touch of bawdy Bristolian humour - to their performances of traditional shanties and their own original material.

Joining them for the evening will be Saskia Griffiths-Moore, a young singer-songwriter really making name for herself on the folk circuit.

Saskia's unique voice, perfectly complemented by her highly accomplished guitar style, bring new life classic songs and her own brilliant compositions, and have already made her a popular performer in Lyme, with several appearances at the Marine Theatre and Lyme Folk Weekend. She is currently working on a much-anticipated second album.

Completing the evening are Mitchell & Vincent, a highly sought-after duo who have been among the most popular performers at Lyme Folk Weekend for the last four years. David Mitchell (guitar) and Graham Vincent (violin and vocals) play a stunning mix of high tempo tunes to get your toes tapping and beautifully soulful folk ballads to melt your heart.

A Lyme Folk organiser said: 'The annual Revisited show is becoming a traditional event for us, and we are delighted to welcome such amazing talent once again. All the performers are donating their time so all the proceeds from the show go to helping us put on the summer festival.'

'We think this year's show will be right up there with the previous ones in terms of quality, and we are particularly thrilled to be holding the evening in the Pilot Boat, as we think an intimate but friendly setting will suit our performers perfectly.'

Tickets for the Lyme Folk Revisited fundraiser are £10, available online at www.lymefolk.com, from Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre (01297 442138) or from the Pilot Boat, 1 Bridge Street, Lyme Regis.

Review

Cinderella and that Rocker Fella

Performed by Axmouth Childrens Theatre

MANY YEARS ago I was a member of a small intimate theatre group called the Castle Theatre company based in Farnham in Surrey. Not as an actor nor as a writer you understand, but merely as a member of audiences who were regularly drawn in by the warmth and excellent productions that far outweighed the surroundings in which they were being performed but which were met by enthusiastic audiences whose presence reached out and drew the cast into performing some of the best theatre that I have seen.

Fast forward now some 50 years and I find myself standing in the small village hall in Axmouth where I await the musical pantomime which I have written for the brilliant young cast of the Axmouth Childrens Theatre group. Just as with the old castle this is a small intimate venue holding at most 50 punters who come to witness and be part of a genuine force in local amateur dramatics. But where all the parts are played by children.

I gaze at the hastily erected stage and the basic but more than adequate scenery and a sense of pride courses through my veins as the tribute music to a departed friend fades and the Fairy Godmother (Ellie Sykes) appears to set the scene. Of course the story revolves around Cinderella (the talented Imogen Oldfield) who is downtrodden and plagued by her ugly sisters who are brilliantly portrayed by Lilley Smitham and Caitlin Tooze while their poor mother Violet Bullen aged 11, wait a minute she's 11, then I realise the oldest member of this cast is only 13. Up steps Zipper, ok so it should be Buttons but this is Pantoland and wow what a stage presence this lad Kieran Jaycock has. This is now all moving along at some pace as we meet Prince Elvis (Elsa Wood in her first performance) and his sidekick Little Richard (Luca Flint) who are over here to play at the grand ball in Axmania where the prince hopes to find his bride so that he can become the King of rock n roll. Of course this is panto and things go wrong, the great ball burns down cue Little Richard's 'Goodness Gracious the Great Halls On Fire' and the ball becomes a festival in a tent, in a field and of course in the rain. More nonsense arrives with Farmer Bills Cowman (Calum Wood) and the rest of the Mangled Up Wurzels perform a short cameo role.

The poor old Baron (Will Sykes) is penniless and defenceless as the two sisters and the baroness bleed him dry with their constant shopping, his only joy in life are his trusty servants the Jedward twins (Euan Hartnell and Brandon Jaycock) whose idiotic and "very random" behaviour keeps us all amused while their version of "Under Pressure- Ice Baby" draws some of the biggest applause at each performance. The changing of the pumpkin into Cinderella's fine coach gives the two little Pixies Naïve Hartnell and Isabelle Hilton chance to shine in their own little scene. Of course this is a fairy tale -ish and having lost her silver gumboot in the mud the prince announces that whoever it shall fit shall become his bride and move to Gracelands in the USA, cue more laughter and tears as the sisters arrive with one swimming flipper on each foot claiming it to be an item of footwear worn in the wet (well that's what it says in Pictionary, sorry the dictionary). Yes it does all end happily but that's for the future but for now as writer and director of this play I can only praise this cast and backstage crew for bringing the story to life and thank the three very well supported audiences for their appreciation and enthusiasm. When I used to attend the old castle theatre there were many nights when I felt that I was a part of something very special and that feeling returned this weekend, well done everyone involved with this theatre group, its where the children are the stars.

2017 PROPERTY MARKET SHOWS PROMISE....

MARK Goodenough of Pennys Estate Agents reports that despite still being in mid February and in the grip of the English winter, the property market in East Devon has started well with buyers in most price ranges keen to take advantage of the new instruction coming to the market. As always, a traditional uplift in activity is anticipated as we head towards Easter and the Spring market but buyers, particularly first timers, appear keen to take full advantage of the affordable interest rates available from lenders. There is also a reasonable number of buy-to-let investors who, despite facing the surcharge on stamp duty, are focused on maximising their rental return and investment yield. Many of the investors are also mindful of a medium term increase on their purchase as values and prices inevitably continue to rise. In terms of potential sellers, some vendors are marketing their property early this year to draw interest before, potentially, a raft of new instructions in the March/April period. In all, the market has started well this year, despite wider economic and political concerns so if you are considering a sale or purchase in 2017 please feel free to contact Pennys for advice on 01297 22224

ŠKODA CITIGO with new front section and upgraded interior

FROM spring 2017, the ŠKODA CITIGO is being presented with comprehensive upgrades to the exterior design and some revisions in the interior. Bonnet, radiator grille, bumpers and fog lights with optional cornering function come in a new design. Specially designed 15-inch alloy wheels complete the new look. ŠKODA's city car impresses with its generous amount of space, excellent layout, high level of safety, great handling, efficient drivetrain variants and numerous 'Simply Clever' features. Value for money – typical of the brand – rounds off the city runabout's offering. The ŠKODA CITIGO will celebrate its premiere at the Geneva International Motor Show (7-19 March 2017).

With the revisions, the ŠKODA CITIGO has grown by 34 mm to a length of 3,597 mm. The width of the five-door version remains at 1,645 mm and the height at 1,478 mm. Thanks to its generous 2,420-mm wheelbase, ŠKODA engineers were able to create an interior which also offers sufficient space for the rear passengers. The ŠKODA CITIGO proves: even a city car can have a spacious interior. The 251 litre boot capacity, which increases to 951 litres when the rear seats are folded down, ranks amongst the best competitor values.

The ŠKODA CITIGO is the perfect vehicle for urban mobility: compact yet spacious, economical and nimble at the same time, attractive, safe and equipped with many practical 'Simply Clever' features.

The ŠKODA CITIGO is available in S, SE, SE L and Monte Carlo trim levels. UK customers can also opt for the stylish Colour Edition.

A brand-typical design with a new front section

The ŠKODA CITIGO's front section has been fundamentally revised: a new bonnet, a redesigned radiator grille in typical ŠKODA design, modified bumpers and updated fog lights create a fresh, young look. The tinted tail lights are now also available for the SE trim line. A colour package with roof and wing mirrors offset in white or black is available for Colour Edition.

The front headlights are fitted with LED daytime running lights and the fog lights come with an optional cornering function, which lights up the area the vehicle is turning into on junctions with poor visibility. To this end, the cornering function automatically switches on the left or right fog light when turning at speeds of up to 25 mph.

New 15-inch alloy wheels in silver and anthracite for the SE L trim level and the Kiwi Green body colour, which is a new addition to the programme, complete the options for creating an individual exterior design.

Small vehicle – big on safety

One of the many active safety features ensuring a high level of safety is the automatic braking function City Safe Drive. The optional Emergency Brake helps to prevent collisions in urban traffic. The assistance system is automatically activated at speeds between 3 and 19 mph. A laser sensor, which is integrated in the windscreen, scans a 10-metre area in front of the vehicle. In the event of an impending collision – if the driver does not react – the braking system is primed and the hydraulic Brake Assist function becomes more sensitive. If necessary, the system initiates a full application of the brakes to bring the car to a standstill or – if the driver is not braking hard enough – supports the driver by providing full braking force. Depending on the speed and the individual situation, City Safe Drive can thereby prevent a collision or at least considerably reduce the accident's severity.

GALMPTON UTD 1 AXMINSTER TOWN 0
AXMINSTER Town dropped two places to seventh after drawing a blank at lowly Galmpton United.

The winner came on the half hour when the hosts were awarded a penalty. Matt Barwell's spot kick was well saved by Tigers' keeper Brett Garner but Liam Halliday reacted quickest to tuck away the rebound.

Ax are due to visit Exeter University next Saturday (3pm ko).

Axminster: Brett Garner, Craig Every, Ben Clay, Chris Duchenski, Elliot Dyer, Aaron Daniels, Liam Cleal, Nathan Warren, Callum Garrett, Mark Scott, Tony Pinder. Subs: Dan Beer, Jamie Barfoot, Jon Hurford.

Match reports

Exmouth Amateurs 1 Beer Albion 2

Premier Division

AFTER their set-back against high-flying Elmore last week, Beer Albion got back to winning ways at Exmouth Amateurs on Saturday writes Richard Honnor.

Conditions at Woodbury Common were bleak and the game did little to warm the supporters.

Beer were missing key players centre-back Andrew Foster, midfielder Simon Smith and striker Richard Walker who was on the bench. Their composure was missed, but replacements Mike Wheeler Ollie Paget and Luke Bartlett gave good accounts of themselves.

After an uneventful goal less first half, The Fishermen took the lead on 48 minutes when centre-back Joe Adkin headed in George Harwood's corner.

Exmouth came close to equalising on 53 minutes when Beer keeper Mark Rooke saved a shot from close range.

But Beer doubled their lead on 62 minutes from another Harwood corner when Jacob Clode placed a fine header into the corner.

Exmouth were clearly vulnerable to set pieces and Beer could have added a third minutes later when Harwood's free kick found Bartlett at the far post but his header narrowly missed the target.

After forcing three corners in succession, the home side reduced the arrears on 75 minutes when a cross from the right was stabbed home from close range.

In the final 10 minutes, Exmouth threw everything at Beer but the Fishermen held out resolutely and striker Chris Long almost caught the Ammies on the break on a couple of occasions.

First his 25-yarder was tipped over the bar by the Ammies keeper and then he had the ball in the net only to be ruled fractionally offside.

Man-of-the-match for Beer was right-back Shaun Denslow.

Next week, Beer are at home to bottom-of-the-table Bow AAC. Kick off at the Furzebrake is at 3pm and match sponsor is Steve Long - Carpenter.

Millway Rise 4 Newton St Cyres Res 2

Division Five

A MINUTE'S silence was held before Saturday's game at Cloakham in tribute to Tony Miller who sadly died during the week aged 63 writes Dick Sturch.

Tony was Millway Rise born and bred and was a constant member of the Rise team during the 70s as well as Treasurer. In later years he was a faithful supporter and his presence will be sadly missed by all at the Tea Hut terrace. His daughter, Jo Flint, carries on the family connection as current Secretary of the Club and her husband Simon is First team Manager.

The ensuing game was one that Tony would have enjoyed. End to end, full of action and good football.

Millway twice found the net in the opening half hour through Jack Farrant and Nicky Land only to have both efforts disallowed for tight offside decisions.

They eventually opened the scoring through a rather fortuitous goal from Sam Turner who probably beat himself before he beat the goalkeeper, but goals are goals however they come.

Sam Burke put the finishing touches to a delightful sequence of passes between Nathan Womersley and Land just before half time to give the home side a two-goal lead going into the break.

The Saints came back into the game during the second period but Millway drew first blood when a Burke flick-on put Womersley through to open his account and put Rise three up.

A damper was soon put on the celebrations though when Chris Hinkson pulled a goal back for the visitors.

A few minutes later Womersley latched on to Hoole's long goal kick, outstripped the defence, rounded the keeper and coolly placed the ball in the net to restore the three-goal cushion.

The final goal went to Adi Selway who was in the right position to net a late consolation for the visitors.

For Rise it was a great team performance. Shane Featherstone was solid in midfield. Nathan Hoole in goal commanded his area well and Womersley was again outstanding leading the attack.

Round-up with Collin Goodwin & Howard Larcombe

RESULT of the day in Premier Division saw SEATON TOWN beat Heavitree Utd 2-0. It was a victory Seaton badly needed but certainly ends the Heavies interest in the title race. Siblings Matt and Martin Hancock scored Seaton's goals.

HONITON TOWN regained top spot on goal difference after repeating their 4-0 victory against neighbours UPOTTERY courtesy of strikes from Joe Mulhall, Jack Knight, Blake Freemantle and Joe Dixon.

FENITON had to work hard to beat Newton St Cyres 3-0, Paul Dowling Mark Simic and an own goal counting.

In Division One LYME REGIS, watched by their guest Ron 'Chopper' Harris won their derby match against COLYTON 3-0. Dec Ellis opened the scoring in the 44th minute and two goals from 16-year-old winger Cody Bowditch in an eight-minute purple patch early in the second-half sealed the win.

The top two sides in Division Two both won 5-0. Leaders Cullompton defeated Budleigh Salterton, and Lapford saw off.

Ironically, third place AXMOUTH UNITED lost 5-0 at Chagford.

There were goals aplenty at Tiger Way where AXMINSTER RESERVES let slip a 4-1 lead to be held to a 4-4 draw in Division Three by Bampton. Earlier, goals from Sam Dibbling (2), Adam Cowling and Stuart Broom appeared to have earned Ax all three points.

Down in Division Eight two goals from Constantine Ruso earned AXMINSTER 3rds a 2-1 win over Bampton Reserves and top spot in the table.

On Sunday afternoon UPOTTERY RESERVES were knocked out of the Galesworthy Cup 4-3 on penalties by hosts Kentisbeare after a 3-3 draw.

Owen McCreadie-Taylor opened the scoring only for the Kents to equalise before half time.

MoM McCreadie-Taylor struck again after the turned around only for a disputed free kick to square things up at 2-2. The hosts took the lead for the first early in extra time but Upottery never gave up, and their perseverance was rewarded when with two minutes left Jamie Westwood forced the shoot-out.

New captains intalled at Honiton

CRICKET ST THOMAS with Bert Robinson

TWENTY three pairs avoided the rain on Monday in the fifth round of the Winter League.

Although the early frost soon disappeared, half the course was on winter greens which made life a lot easier, and there were many scores in the 40s. Result: 1st Iain Rowland & Bob Hollingsworth 46 points, 2nd Barrie Heath & Trevor Dobson 45, 3rd Ian Griffiths & George Wallace 45.

Meanwhile, 40 Seniors attended the Wednesday individual stableford qualifier in benign conditions.

Result; Division One: 1st Martin Bargery 41 points, 2nd Trevor Dobson 40, 3rd Rod Stevens 40. Division Two: 1st Nick George 41 points, 2nd Bob Rees 38, 3rd Bert Robinson 37.

Fortunately, the threatening weather forecast for Friday did not materialise and, despite a bitterly cold day, 40 Seniors entered the afour-man Medalford competition.

AXE CLIFF with Peter Motson

THE Ladies and Seniors played a 15-hole mixed Greensomes.

The winning pair were Barbara Cummings & Malcolm Glass with 27pts. In second on count back with 25 were Jill & Dave Bruce from Helen Gaudie & Bill Polley.

The Ladies section also played the second of their County Prize stableford competition. Pauline Willis finished on top with 33pts, closely followed by Barbara Cummings (32) and Jo Donmall (28).

HONITON with John Pawley

THE Club AGM was held on Thursday. Chairman Peter Clarke opened by announcing that the membership had increased to around 500 members, with the Club in a sound position.

Vice President Paul Hill then proposed Max Pipe as the new President, following the death of Alec Gosling. Max then proposed Penny Blackburn as new Vice President.

Outgoing Captain Julian Phillips handed over the reins for 2017 to Julian Netherway. With Ron Graham stepping down after many years of service in various guises, Alan Pollock, Olwen Eaton, Julian Phillips and Jackie Seager were then elected to the Board.

On a glorious sunny Wednesday morning 13

■ ALL SET: The four new Honiton golf club captains; Janet Hughes, Julian Netherway, Mike Sennitt and Haydn McCance pairs of ladies teed up to play a foursomes Stableford - a tricky format, requiring understanding between partners, as it is strictly alternate shots from tee to green.

All the main greens were in play with one temp tee. Wet ground made conditions tricky, with no ball run.

One pairing chose to just play the first round of the Australian Spoons, with five pairs playing both tests but overall scoring was generally low.

The foursomes winners were Gill Johnson & Jan Portlock with 30pts, followed by Sue Ritchie & Chris Luttman (29), Ann Trayling & Stephani Barnes (27) and Heather Clarke & Tricia Swindell (26).

The Australian Spoons is played over several months, with as many partners as you wish, whilst accumulating points for each player - results later in the year.

More than 50 hardy Seniors braved the Arctic northeast wind on Friday to take part in a 3BBB Stableford, with only one score to count.

Dave Maggs scored superbly to take his team of Peter Stubbington & Bill Eaton as clear winners with an impressive 46pts, ahead of Ian Davis, Alex Neil & Mike Delaney with 42. Mike Ward, Bob Cleal & Ted Chandler also scored 42 but lost out on count-back. Fourth place was taken by Mike Watts, George Blake & Phil Wall with 41. Two's were recorded by Jim Wallis at the 12th, and Tom Tunnicliffe on the 7th - their reward 16 balls each.

On Sunday the newly elected Captains held their drive-in after a 4BBB Stableford, with two scores to count.

The shotgun start meant a rude awakening for most in the bitter northeast wind but some good scores were achieved.

The clubhouse was packed with members from all four sections to see their new Captains drive off the 18th tee.

THE Colts thrilled a good-sized crowd on the main pitch with a fine display against Clevedon.

The whole Chard team played well, but the three individuals who stood out for Chard were Adam Moore, Barnaby Down and Joe Mainwaring.

Moore crossed for three tries and Man of the Match Down managed one try as well as converting four of the five tries scored.

Down was singled out as well for a fine all round performance both in defence and attack.

Mainwaring had his usual solid game and fittingly crossed for Chard final try.

Parkruns growing in popularity

Chard Road Runners

with Paul Masters

THERE was just the one race this weekend for Chard Road Runners members who took part in the TAUNTON HUMDINGER Half Marathon. Matt Baker, along with Emma Male and Helen Baxter set off to take the first few miles at a steady pace with a plan to run hard second half.

All was going well until rounding a corner the runners were delivered the delight of a flooded road with ice floating to add to the surprise! Baker kept up his good pace and crossed the line in 2:01:51, Male clocked 2:07:09 and Baxter 2:25:51.

Axe Valley Runners

with Dave Mutter

MADDIE Carter was first home in the February Junior handicap taking 18:13, followed by with Harry McMahon 14:08, Sami Narayakkara 14:13, Ethan Huntley 14:00 and Josh D'Albertanson 16:23. McMahon leads the junior standings with 43 points followed by Rosie Kendall (38) and Harvey Burrough and Josh D'Albertanson (both 33). Kelly Stamp was the Senior handicap winner in 27:37 followed by David Cooke 28:41, Flo Swan 23:16, Matt Hewer 21:33, Alan Morbey 26:35 and Fran Hodson 27:20.

Stamp leads the Senior standings with 44 points from David Cooke (41) and Matt Hewer (36).

Meanwhile, the weekend's three-lap Exeter half marathon was a two-day event. Emma Kiernan ran on Saturday finishing 35th out of 191 runners in 1:29:19 (PB).

In the Sunday race Angela Kerr came 11th, 1:57:40 and Martin Kerr 242nd, 2:22:45 out of 276 runners.

Graham and Diane Newton, along with daughter Paula, ran the second WORTHING HALF-MARATHON on Sunday.

They all finished very cold but happy with their performance; Graham was first in, at 1:35:20, Paula was next in 2:07:47 and then Diane in 2:26:47.

Elsewhere, Simon Gould finished the FOUR TRIGS in 3:26. Sunday brought THE HUMDINGER, a hilly road half marathon that has over 1,000ft of climb.

This race is becoming more and more popular and this year both The Humdinger and The HURTLE sold out (The Hurtle is the shorter five-mile version).

The race itself was keenly contested and AVR had Terry Emmett and Matt Hewer in The Humdinger and Robin Britton in The Hurtle.

Emmett, who came fourth last year improved on his time and finished ninth in 1:25:38. Hewer was 16th, 1:30:06. Britton came home 29th in 39:50.

Honiton RC's Kevin Hawker was once again the victor of the SEATON PARKRUN, completing the 5K route in 17:48.

It was celebration time at a cold and drizzly GORLESTON CLIFFS (near Gt. Yarmouth) PARKRUN where Dave Kelf came in first over 70, 213th overall in 35:11.

Patrick Devine-Wright won the KILLERTON PARKRUN in 18:29 with Tim Lenton fourth, 19:13.

It was another great night for what was the penultimate round of the Seaton winter 5k series with many pbs and a few new runners.

Matching the most participants to have taken part yet at 11 with hope for a few more in the final event, the winner this month, with a new course record, was Ollie Caute in 16:39 followed by Jake Smith, 16:51, Terry Emmett 18:13, Matt Hewer (a pb at each event) 18:28, Garry Perratt 18:37, Josh Hopson 19:11, James Guler 19:31, Karl Hodson 20:35, Chris Keefe 20:57, Fran Hodson (new female course record) 23:16 and David Cooke 23:46.

Hornets honour Mags with stylish win

Honiton Hornets 4 Sidmouth & Ottery 3rds 0 THE Hornets' match started last week with a minute's silence to remember club Chairman Margaret Williams who died a year ago.

'Mags' had been a dedicated player, umpire and chairman of the club for many years since it's formation.

The Honiton team then set out to play in the style Mags would have been proud of with some great passing and attacking play.

Jean Gormley found the back board first finishing off a shot from Vanessa Trude which the keeper wasn't able to clear.

Katrina Tucker scored the second with a solo effort from midfield slicing through the Ottery midfield and finishing with a fast strike giving the keeper no chance.

Honiton kept the pressure up throughout the match with a number of shots saved striking the goal frame or just inches wide of the mark.

In the second half the pressure told and a short corner was awarded. Player-of-the-Match Amy Phillips connected well and the ball whizzed past the keeper to make it three with a fourth goal coming from Tucker with a fine reverse stick strike.

The win keeps Honiton seven points clear at the top of the table with five league matches remaining.

Honiton Hornets are always keen to welcome new players - see www.wcwhl.co.uk

Field lifts league title

IT WAS bitterly cold for the 10 Ilminster AA members fishing the final Royal Oak match on the River Isle on Sunday.

Although the top weights were very good, it was a struggle for most.

Graham Field had the best weight on the day with 14lb of chub, roach and perch from peg 124 at Isle Brewers, his victory also saw him take the league title.

Stuart Aplin was second with a nice net of quality roach weighing 10lb 2oz from peg 125 and Terry Morgan was third with 4lb 11oz from peg 126.

After nine matches Field was crowned League Champion with 13 points and Jamie Rich was the runner up with 17.

Next Sunday is the final V.E.S. Precision match and the draw is at Upper Coxes at 8.45am.

Sections; A - Jamie Rich (Against Men and Fish) - 2lb 13oz, B - Adie Bishop (Taunton) - 3lb.
